

In his talk, Dr Yeo will discuss the challenges and opportunities with medtech innovation in the Asia Pacific. Challenges include the ageing population in Asia, complex intellectual property environment and difficult funding conditions. Opportunities include the populations in Asia forming a huge market, accelerated growth coming out from the pandemic and significant diversity in Asia. Dr Yeo will share some of his personal experience in his medtech innovation journey.